

VIRGINIA NEWS

Sending a bullet through his left lung, William Whitaker, a farmer aged 30 years, died at his home, 1 1/2 miles south of Bristol, Sunday night. He left no explanation.

Richmond bank deposits are increasing more than $1,000,000 a month and bank clearings are showing a monthly increase of more than $400,000, according to official figures made public yesterday.

Orange and its vicinity were visited Sunday by a destructive storm, accompanied by a severe wind. A silo on the farm of E. W. Scott, near Somerset, was blown from its foundation and wrecked. The roof of the home of Col. E. F. Golsan was blown off, a hay barn blown over and two of his outbuildings demolished.

Charged with murdering her month-old baby, Hester Ragsdale, a woman aged 25 years, and for many years a resident of Schoolfield, near Danville, was arrested yesterday. Her arrest followed the forging of a chain of circumstantial evidence around the woman, who, the police say, finally confessed that she had killed the child, fearing the anger of her father.

Confessing to have started fifteen fires in Richmond since April 7, confessions which it is estimated conservatively did at least $80,000 damage and which it cost the city in the neighborhood of $2,000 to extinguish, Howard Banks, alias Percy Christian, an 18 year old negro arrested Sunday night while in the act of preparing to start a fire in the rear of the Virginia Bonded Warehouse, is being held by the police on fifteen charges of arson.

Drinking six ounces of chloroform purchased Sunday on his way to church, telling the druggist he wished to kill a dying horse, William W. Tanquary, 43 years old, a prominent Presbyterian churchman, Sunday school leader and bookkeeper in the Farmers and Merchants' National Bank in Winchester, was found unconscious Sunday afternoon in a stable and died yesterday. His accounts at the bank are reported about six hundred dollars short.

C. W. Spitzer, of Staunton, had his leg broken, nose fractured and elbow dislocated in an automobile accident Saturday on the Valley pike seven miles from Harrisonburg. Spitzer was taken to the hospital.

"Glad to meet you!" says the razor to the corn. "I'll bleed for you!" says the corn to the razor. Razors and corns love each other. Corns love to be cut, picked, gouged, salvaged, plastered and jerked out—they grow faster.

"Why, O Why, Did I Do It? 'Gets-It' for Me After This—If I Live!"

faster. Mr. and Mrs. Went-and-Cut-It realize it now—they use "Gets-It" instead—it's the wonderful, simple corn-cure that never fails. Stops pain. You apply it in 2 seconds, it dries at once, the corn is doomed. Nothing to stick to the stockings or press on the corn. It means good-night to plasters, salves, diggers, razors and toe-bundling. You can wear smaller shoes. Your corns will come right off, "clean as a whistle." Never inflames healthy flesh. The world's biggest selling corn cure. M. F. Hopkins, a Bristol junk dealer, has shipped the most historic illicit still in the country to a Cleveland (Ohio) dealer. The still, of solid copper, was kept going in the mountain section of Scott county, for a number of years, and while in service was the centre for numerous battles between revenue men and moonshiners. A record of the fights around that old-time copper still shows that 14 men were shot to death in the ravine in which it was located. Among the men slain around the still was a minister of the Gospel.

Chairman W. D. Cardwell, of the Third District Democratic Committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee today to arrange for the selection of the party nominee for Congress from this district. The committee will fix the date of the primary in order that prospective candidates may have ample notice of the time within which to qualify, so far, no one has come to the front as a possible competitor for the seat now occupied by Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague. The Socialists, it is true, have named a candidate, but the vote of this party is negligible.

Just as he was about to leave the court room after being placed under $100 security for six months by Magistrate H. S. Sunday, for attacking his wife, W. D. Palmer, a resident of Varina District in Henrico county, was served with another warrant, charging him with arson. Palmer is charged with setting fire to his house last Wednesday night. It is the belief of the police that he burned the house in a fit of rage against the balance of his family. Palmer ran his wife and children out of the house Wednesday night. Palmer claimed that the fire was due to a lamp being accidentally knocked over.

James Lewis, white, employed as a watchman by the Pocahontas Mills Company, was stabbed to death by James Henly, white, near the gate of the company's property, in Petersburg last night. Lewis and Henly had quarreled, and Lewis had been ordered off the property of the company. He went away, but later returned with two other white men, named Bryant and Exum. The quarrel was renewed and all three men, it is alleged, attacked Lewis. During the encounter he was stabbed in the right side of his abdomen, and died almost immediately. Bryant and Exum it is said by witnesses, kicked the prostrate body of the wounded man.

Twenty-five labor leaders were placed on trial yesterday in Judge Kiekham Scanlan's court in Chicago on charges of boycott, conspiracy, malicious mischief and extortion, as a sequel of the big painters' strike of last year. Defended by seventeen of the ablest criminal lawyers they could procure, officers of the unions and alleged sluggers were arraigned and pleaded not guilty.
